THE TURNERS LEAVE

For Steubenville to Attend the District Turnout—The Wheeling Class.

The Wheeling Turners left for Steubenville yesterday full of confidence and hope they will return with many honors. They did not go to the train in a body, but the members assembled at the depot with uniform hat and cane, and when the train pulled out their many friends gave them a parting cheer. The active members who left on the 2:55 Pan-Handle train were Leon Bartins, August Wilhelm, Chris Schambra, Herman Schambra, Phil Schambra, Ed Brandfass, Martin Kucabier, Frank Straub, Ed Plankey, Harry Burkle, Reinhold Kraft, Joe Kurtz, William Feast, George Brandfass and Herman Frederick. Mr. Will Schambra, one of the judges of the "fest," left at 1:25 p. m. over the same road.

This morning's early train will take a good crowd up to take in the exercises, including the following passive members: Julius Lohse, Henry Roemer, Joe Welsgerber, Will Boardwing, Otto Tyson, Nick Plume, Will Lobenstein, L. F. Heller, Charles Amick and others. Prof. Frank Miller will also be among this morning's crowd, and will probably participate in the exercises with the Wheeling class.

East End Accident.

Yesterday at noon Isaac Mangus, T. E. Porter and a five-year-old child were driving along Sixteenth street, when the horse bolted and striking the curb, threw Mangus out, cutting his forehead and his knees. A little further on the horse ran into a lamp post in front of Young's drug store and Porter succeeded in subduing the animal. The buggy was badly knocked and one of the wheels torn off, while Mangus received pretty serious injuries.

A Summer at the Shore.

Is without enjoyment to a young man who is not properly attired for it. There is nothing better for summer wear than SERGE, if it is a good Serge, and no other material is more generally becoming a man. There is such a wide difference in the qualities of Serges, however, that if one is not himself a judge he should be advised in the matter of selection. Permanence of color, ability to hold the shape, are qualities that are essential to the best grades such as we offer at very reasonable prices.

White Duck Trousers, particularly the Linen Duck, are a dress addition to go with a Serge Suit.
